We can work on problems within mathematics and we can work on problems that use mathematics as a tool, like problems in science and geography. Mathematics can describe and explain but it can also predict what might happen. That is why mathematics is important. Learning and teaching mathematics Learning skills and remembering facts in mathematics are important but they are only the means to an ...

mathematics through problem solving. I base my comments on my own classroom experiences and the experiences of other teachers who have found that problem solving can be difficult to teach and even more difficult for students to learn. First, I examine why implementing the past NCTM Standards in their classrooms was so difficult for some teachers. Second, I offer suggestions to help teachers ...
